CHAIR'S REPORT

Rocky Rhodes, Community, Economic, and Human Development Committee (CEHD) Chair, reported that the CEHD Committee approved two action items and received two separate informational items. He noted that the committee approved the 7th Cycle RHNA Subcommittee Charter, which serves as the framework to guide the Subcommittee's purpose, responsibilities, membership structure, and decision-making processes. He indicated that the charter would be considered for approval by this body at this meeting. Next, he reported that the CEHD Committee approved the Connect SoCal 2050: Policy Development Framework, which establishes the roadmap for updating key policy elements in Connect SoCal 2050. For the informational items, he shared that they received a report from staff on SCAG's response to an Orange County Grand Jury Report concerning State housing mandates and the RHNA Process and also heard a progress update on Connect SoCal 2050's Local Data Exchange Process, which is the formal engagement process for the region's cities and counties to provide technical input and data for Connect SoCal 2050.

There were no comments on the CEHD Chair report.

Rick Denison, Energy and Environment Committee (EEC) Chair, reported the EEC meeting featured three action items and one information item. He noted that first up was a recommendation to the RC to adopt Addendum 2 to the Connect SoCal 2024 PEIR, the second action item was a recommendation to RC to approve the transportation conformity determinations of the proposed final 2027 FTIP and the proposed final Connect SoCal 2024 Amendment 2, and the final action item was a recommendation for the RC to adopt the Connect SoCal 2050 Policy Development Framework. He indicated that all three were approved by the Committee. Lastly, he reported that they also received an overview of SCAG's upcoming Regional Wildlife Connectivity Study, which was one of the initiatives included in SCAG's Resilience Action Resolution that was adopted in June of 2025. He noted that SCAG received a $700,000 Caltrans Sustainable Transportation Planning Grant and would launch the study in Spring of 2027.

There were no comments on the EEC Chair report.

Mike T. Judge, Transportation Committee (TC) Chair, reported that the Transportation Committee took action to forward two items to the Regional Council for approval: 1) the previously approved draft 2027 FTIP and Connect SoCal 2024 Amendment No. 2 which was brought to the committee for a final approval after being made available for public review last month; and 2) the Connect SoCal 2050: Policy Development Framework, which was also reviewed and forwarded to the Regional Council for approval. He explained that this framework was critical to the ongoing development of the region's transportation plan ensuring a sound analysis and structure to moving Connect SoCal to completion in 2028. He also noted that the Committee received two informational items. He shared the committee heard about 12 planned "Quick-Build" projects to be deployed throughout the SCAG region as part of the Quick-Build Transportation Safety Projects Program. He explained these projects would temporarily improve safety on the region's transportation system and enhance connections to transit and key destinations in an effort to highlight potential future improvement. Lastly, he indicated they received an update on SCAG's ongoing "Planning for Main Streets" Program, which was a program funded through a Caltrans Sustainable Transportation Planning Grant and looks to highlight state facilities which function as "main streets" given their multimodal travel patterns and community destinations. He noted that the project will identify gaps and needs in collaboration with local jurisdictions, community organizations, Caltrans, and the Public in an effort to create opportunities along collocated state routes.

There were no comments on the TC Chair report.

CONSENT CALENDAR

President Marquez stated that for the record, prior to acting on Connect SoCal Amendment 2 and the associated conformity determinations, the Regional Council had reviewed and considered the environmental information contained in Addendum No. 2. He noted that for administrative efficiency, these items were being acted upon through a single roll-call vote on the Consent Calendar.

Eli Lipmen, representing Move LA and Move California, expressed support for the FTIP and commended staff for their work in developing the program. The speaker encouraged increased investment in multimodal transportation projects that serve all users, advocated for reducing roadway-only capacity projects, and voiced support for SB 1087 as a means to streamline and strengthen the regional planning process.

Regional Council Member Mike Goodsell, ICTC, stated he would like Item No. 10 to be pulled for discussion.

President Marquez asked the Clerk of the Board for guidance on how to move forward.

The Clerk of the Board clarified that the Regional Council could proceed to take a vote on Consent Calendar Items 1 through 9, 11 and 12, accept Receive and File Items 13 through 17, and could choose to discuss the item [Item No. 10] after.

INFORMATION ITEM

18. Legacy in Action - From 2026 FIFA World Cup to LA28

Kome Ajise, Executive Director, moderated a panel discussion with Stephanie Wiggins (Chief Executive Officer of LA Metro), Darrell E. Johnson (Chief Executive Officer of the Orange County Transportation Authority), and Alissa Walker (Los Angeles-based journalist and editor of Torched) regarding lessons learned from the FIFA World Cup and preparations for the 2028 Olympic and Paralympic Games.

Panelists shared that the FIFA World Cup successfully tested Southern California's regional mobility network and demonstrated the importance of collaboration, trust, operational flexibility, and effective customer communication. They highlighted strong coordination among transit agencies, high customer satisfaction, and the successful integration of 11 transit operators that provided a seamless mobility experience for residents and visitors.

Discussion emphasized the need for continued regional cooperation, enhanced wayfinding, dedicated transit lanes, improved coordination with cities and mobility providers, integrated fare and ticketing systems, and clear, real-time customer information. Panelists noted that public willingness to use transit increased when convenient, reliable, and well-communicated travel options were available.

Panelists also discussed the value of fan zones, community hubs, and local celebrations connected by accessible transportation. They stressed the importance of sharing positive transit stories and expanding public familiarity with transit before the 2028 Games.

Regional Council members raised questions regarding transit safety, cleanliness, homelessness-related concerns, regional coordination, community hub funding, and federal funding needs. Ms. Wiggins reported ongoing improvements to safety, security, cleanliness, fare compliance, and customer experience, noting that LA Metro had experienced no safety incidents associated with FIFA World Cup operations. Panelists agreed that rider perceptions of safety were critical to increasing transit ridership and public confidence.

The discussion underscored the importance of including all counties in regional planning efforts and treating Southern California as an interconnected transportation network. Panelists identified trust among agencies, shared goals, and coordinated advocacy as essential to successfully delivering transportation services for the 2028 Games.

Panelists further emphasized the need for significant federal funding to support Games-related transportation operations and improvements. Ms. Wiggins and Mr. Johnson stated that a unified regional advocacy strategy would be necessary to secure federal resources and noted that existing transit services should not be reduced to support Games operations.

In closing, panelists expressed hope that the long-term legacy of the FIFA World Cup and the 2028 Olympic and Paralympic Games would be lasting improvements in regional mobility, expanded transit use, integrated transportation systems, and stronger regional partnerships. Mr. Ajise concluded that Southern California possessed the expertise and collaborative capacity necessary to successfully host the 2028 Games and emphasized the continued importance of regional cooperation and advocacy.

There were no public comments on Item No. 18.

President Marquez stated they would be discussing Item No. 10 next.

Discussion and Vote for Item No. 10 - SB 675 (Padilla) – Imperial County Air Pollution Control District Reform

Deputy Executive Director Darin Chidsey reported that the Legislative Communications and Membership Committee (LCMC) had recommended maintaining a watch position on SB 675 following significant amendments to the bill, including changes to governance, implementation timelines, and operational provisions. He noted that the item had been brought forward at the request of Regional Council Member Goodsell to provide additional background and discussion.

Regional Council Member Goodsell expressed concerns regarding the bill's potential financial impacts and unfunded mandates on Imperial County. While acknowledging improvements made through amendments, he stated that significant concerns remained regarding implementation and governance and moved that the Regional Council adopt an oppose position on SB 675 unless further changes were made.

Regional Council Member Rocky Rhodes, Simi Valley, District 46, seconded the motion.

Guillermo Hernandez, representing the Office of Senator Steve Padilla, stated that SB 675 would broaden representation on the Imperial County Air Pollution Control District governing board, improve public access to information, and address longstanding air quality concerns. He emphasized that the bill would not create new regulatory authority and requested Regional Council support.

The Regional Council engaged in discussion focused on concerns related to unfunded mandates, governance structure, board appointment procedures, and the bill's ability to address Imperial County's air quality challenges. Members argued that the proposal could impose substantial costs on local jurisdictions while not adequately addressing underlying environmental issues, and sought clarification regarding governance reforms, appointment authority, and implementation details.

Staff noted that the recommended watch position reflected the bill's limited regional impact and that questions regarding specific implementation provisions would be best addressed by the bill's author. Mr. Hernandez clarified that the legislation specified appointment procedures for County, city, Imperial Irrigation District, and public representatives.

Board Counsel Duran confirmed that the motion before the Regional Council was to change its position on SB 675 from watch to oppose, and that if the motion failed, the Regional Council would retain the watch position previously recommended by the LCMC.

A MOTION was made (Goodsell) to oppose SB 75. Motion was SECONDED (Rhodes) and passed by the following votes:

AYES: Baker, Bucknum, Denison, Doby, Dutrey, Elias, Finlay, Frometa, Gabbard, Goodsell, Harnik, Henderson, Judge, Kleiman, Krupa, Light, Lock Dawson, Ly, Marquez, McCallon, McLean, Navarro, Rhodes, Sanchez, Sandoval, Tye, Waronek, Wood, and Yokoyama (29)

NOES: Cardenas-Singh, Gardner, L. Hernandez, Lopez, Ramos, and Saro (6)

ABSTAIN: Allen and Crosswhite (2)

Continuation of Information Items

19. The Road to LA28: Transportation Demand Management (TDM) Strategic Plan

Due to timing constraints, Item No. 19 was deferred to another meeting.

20. Economic Roundtable Third Quarter Update

Echo Zhang, Senior Regional Planner, presented an update from SCAG's Economic Roundtable, which had met on August 20 to discuss regional economic conditions. She stated that the discussion focused on the region's slow, narrow, and jobless economic growth and introduced Dr. Manfred Keil, Chief Economist of the Inland Empire Economic Partnership and Associate Professor of Economics at Claremont McKenna College, to provide an overview of the findings.

Dr. Keil reported that the national, state, and regional economies continued to grow but that employment growth had remained stagnant, resulting in what he described as "jobless growth." He noted that population had declined throughout much of the SCAG region since 2020, particularly in Los Angeles, Orange, and Ventura Counties, while Riverside and San Bernardino Counties experienced population gains. Dr. Keil emphasized the economic significance of the Southern California region but expressed concern about shrinking labor forces and employment levels in several counties. He also highlighted a lack of economic diversification, particularly in the Inland Empire, where employment was concentrated in logistics, healthcare, and public education. Looking ahead, he identified potential challenges related to healthcare funding reductions, declines in public education employment, rising interest rates, labor shortages in construction, and continued employment losses across multiple industry sectors. He concluded that while current economic conditions remained relatively stable, structural economic and demographic trends presented risks to the region's long-term outlook.

Regional Council Member Rebollar highlighted Imperial County's economic potential, particularly in the lithium and geothermal sectors, and emphasized the significant economic activity generated by the County's ports of entry. He noted the substantial trade volume, commercial truck traffic, and cross-border movement occurring through Calexico and requested that future economic reports incorporate Imperial County's ports of entry and border trade activity in the same manner that seaport activity is reflected elsewhere in the region.

Dr. Keil responded that despite concerns about the impacts of tariffs on trade activity, imports through the Ports of Los Angeles and Long Beach remained stable and container traffic had not declined. He noted that the continued strength of imports was important for the regional logistics industry, particularly in the Inland Empire, where logistics had become a major source of employment.

There were no public comments on Item No. 20.

BUSINESS REPORT

Paul Granillo, Business Representative, summarized key economic trends discussed by the Roundtable, noting that job growth remained concentrated in healthcare, logistics, government, and technology sectors, while manufacturing, construction, and professional services had experienced limited or declining growth. He reported that the regional housing market remained sluggish due to economic uncertainty and elevated interest rates, while apartment markets remained stable and industrial real estate had softened. Mr. Granillo also emphasized the growing influence of artificial intelligence across industries and encouraged continued discussion of its impacts on businesses and the workforce.

PRESIDENT'S REPORT

President Marquez stated that due to timing limitations, he would not provide a President's Report. He noted that that next meeting of the Regional Council meeting was scheduled for October 1, at 11:45 a.m.

EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR'S REPORT

Kome Ajise, Executive Director, stated he would not provide an Executive Director's Report in the interest of time.

There were no public comments on the Business, President's or Executive Director's reports.

FUTURE AGENDA ITEMS

There were no future agenda items.
