Housing cost burden is most commonly measured as the percentage of gross income spent on housing, with 30% a usual threshold for 'cost burden' and 50% the threshold for 'severe cost burden.' However, a lower-income household spending the same percent of income on housing as a higher-income household will likely experience more true 'cost burden.' ### Spending on Rent

Across Lawndale's 6,630 renter households, 3,752 (56.6%) spend thirty percent or more of gross income on housing cost, compared to 55.3% in the SCAG region. ### Costs for Mortgage Holders by Income

Mortgage-holding households in Lawndale can be broken down by income and the percentage of income spent on mortgage costs. The income category most prevalent amongst Lawndale mortgage-holding households is $75,000 or more (1,570 households) and the most prevalent share of income spent on mortgage costs is over 30% (1,258 households).
